AN UX DESIGNER

WHO IS OBSESSED WITH MAKING THINGS SIMPLE & OBVIOUS.

HELLO

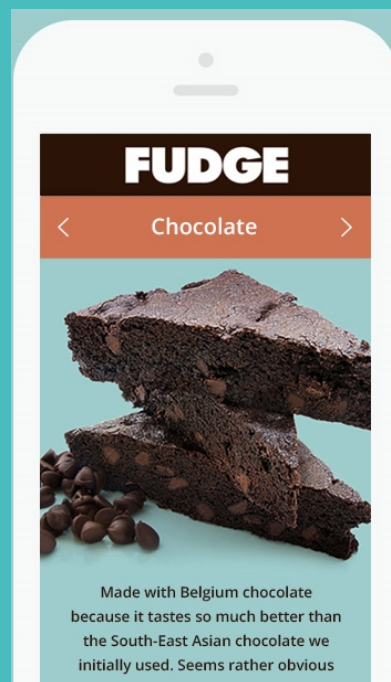

My name is Jie Hui and I'm an UX Designer at entry level. I've spent most of my life and career in Shanghai, but have recently moved to Ottawa, Canada, with my family for our next adventure.

I am studying Interactive Media Design at Algonquin College which start me out on the path. I love all aspects of design and the challenge of answering a new brief with creative thought and practical theory. Being able to deliver a project that answers the clients needs in a way they never could have imaged is what makes this industry so exciting for me.

When I'm not working, I enjoy simple pleasures including travelling, biking and hanging out with the kids.
